

BEST of PHOENIX

The
USA Today Arizona Republic New Times

Tidbits

"In the nations best BBQ towns-Oakland, Chicago-the rougher the hood, the more amazing the food. And Phoenix is no exception with Hap's Pit BBQ.... From the melt in your mouth ribs to the pulled pork sandwich that makes you want to reach out and slap somebody, this place is a winner.

And the sides are no slouches either. Cue staples such as potato salad are raised to a culinary art form here, with chunks of green peppers and pickles making it work. Use the cake-like cornbread to sop up Hap's sauce. And whatever you do, don't miss Hap's Old Settler Beans, a luscious mix of legumes flavored with bacon, ground meat and a hint of sweetness."

-Howard Seftel, The Arizona Republic

"OK, OK. If someone put a gun to my head and said, 'Tell me where to find the best ribs in the city or you die,' I'd probably send them to Hap's. Once you sink your teeth into the luscious St. Louis-cut of spare ribs, you'll realize that they're nicely trimmed but meaty and potently infused with the hickory smoke that's wafted over them for countless hours."

-Nikki Buchanan, Phoenix Magazine

"I have eaten at every BBQ joint in town. Nothing, I mean Nothing compares to the smoked chicken here. Hap's does chicken right!"
